

Social and Personal.

JUNE 30 is the date set for the wedding of Miss Willis Carolyn Williams to Lieutenant Eugene B. Williams of the United States Army, stationed at Presidio, Cal., whose engagement has just been announced.

Miss Williams has been a frequent visitor to Richmond, where she is very popular, and her friends here are greatly interested in the announcement of her approaching marriage.

She is a graduate of Stuart Hall, Staunton, Va., and is well known throughout the State.

Invitations have been received here to the marriage of Miss Willis Louise Jones to Arthur Dudley Brown, which is to be celebrated on next Tuesday evening, June 8, at 8 o'clock in the Fourth Street Christian Church, Covington, Ky.

Both the prospective bride and groom are of this city. The marriage will take place from the home of the bride, Mrs. Woodward, 1481 Madison Avenue, Covington, Ky., the bride's aunt.

Curtis E. Lyter, of Louisville, Ky., is to be best man, and Miss Louise Crumbrugh, of Fort Thomas, Ky., will attend the bride as her maid of honor.

There will be a reception in Mrs. Woodward's home after the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown will leave immediately for a trip East. They will spend some time in Richmond, Old Point, Washington, New York, and visit relatives in Virginia.

The Annual Meeting.
At the annual meeting of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, held yesterday at 11 A. M. in the Confederate Museum, Mrs. James Werth presided, and annual reports were read. A special effort to raise $2,000 for each State room in the museum was discussed, and action taken by the Legislature of several States regarding the appropriation was reported.

A committee was appointed to write resolutions of sympathy on the death of Mrs. W. B. Freeman.

The completed list of regents and vice-regents for the museum show the following: Alabama, Miss Mary Clayton, Eufaula, Ala., regent; Mrs. James H. Drake, of Richmond, vice-regent; Arkansas, Mrs. B. E. Benton, Pine Bluff, Ark., regent; Mrs. W. Miller, of Richmond, vice-regent; Florida, Mrs. Francis P. Fleming, regent; Mrs. R. A. Patterson, of Richmond, vice-regent and alternate; Georgia, Mrs. R. V. McKee, regent; Louisiana, Mrs. J. H. Gilmore, regent; Miss Emma Scott, of Richmond, vice-regent and alternate; Maryland, Mrs. John P. Poe, of Baltimore, regent; Mrs. C. O. B. Co., of Virginia, vice-regent; Mississippi, Miss Lily McDowell, of Holly Springs, Miss., regent; Mrs. T. A. Cary, and Miss Georgia Blankenship, vice-regent and alternate; Missouri, Mrs. L. B. Valliant, of Jefferson, regent; Mrs. E. H. Yonge, and Mrs. J. Boston Hill, vice-regent and alternate; North Carolina, Mrs. Latta C. Johnston, of Charlotte, regent; Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, and Mrs. John W. Gordon, vice-regent and alternate; South Carolina, Mrs. I. B. Martin, of Columbia, regent; Mrs. W. R. Cox, and Mrs. J. Alston Cabell, vice-regent and alternate; Tennessee, Mrs. T. J. Baker, regent; Mrs. N. V. Randolph, vice-regent; Texas, Mrs. A. V. Wenker, regent; Mrs. W. A. Harris, and Mrs. James D. Crump, vice-regent and alternate; Virginia, Miss Mary Cusick Lee, regent; Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, and Mrs. John B. Lightfoot, vice-regent and alternate; West Virginia, Mrs. Sydney Van Wyck, of San Francisco, Cal., regent; Miss M. B. Baughman, and Miss Lucy Munford, vice-regent and alternate.

Invitations issued.
Mrs. B. Bertram Owens has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Evelyn Courtney, to Dr. Robert Orman Apple, the ceremony to take place on the evening of Wednesday, June 16, at 7 o'clock, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Union Square, Richmond, friends of Miss Owens will be interested in her approaching marriage. She is a graduate of Sweet Briar College and well known in Virginia.

Home Wedding.
The wedding of Miss Helen Virginia Smith and Dr. Warren Marston was celebrated at 11 o'clock Wednesday, June 2, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Smith, of 3 South First Street, Rev. H. D. MacLachlan performed the ceremony.

Professor W. H. O. McGeehan rendered the wedding march as the bride party entered the parlors. Henry B. Marston, of Toano, Va., was best man. The bride was attended by Miss H. H. George Smith, matron of honor, gowning in a white lace robe and carrying a bouquet of La France roses. Meredith Gaddy and little Miss Margaret Smith acted as bridesmaids. Miss Ann Cary Gaddy, of Toano, Va., as flower girl, wore a dainty lingerie frock of nainsook with lace trimmings.

Miss Smith's wedding gown was of white satin. Her ornaments were old family jewels, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She entered on the arm of her father, and was given away by him. Both Mr. and Mrs. Marston are well known throughout Virginia. He is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, class '06, and was for two years commandant at Franklin Military Academy, and a lieutenant in the Seventy-first Virginia Regiment.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston left immediately after the ceremony for Toronto, Canada. They will visit Montreal, Thousand Islands and Lake George, returning about June 20 to their home at Toano, Va.

To Sail on Saturday.
Mrs. Leary and Miss Nora Leary left Richmond yesterday for New York to sail on Saturday for a three months' trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Philip Ripley will be among the other Richmonders sailing during June to spend several months abroad.

Musical Commencement.
The pupils of Miss L. I. Massel held their first commencement Tuesday, June 1, at her studio, 214 North Twentieth Street. Their endeavors were a credit to themselves and a pleasure to their hearers.

After the program was concluded, Rev. Hugh McKee, of St. Patrick's Church, presented medals to Misses Ruth Dobson, Letitia Clillo, Josephine Massel, Dora Fassamanech, Tillie Berenson, Ruth Spain and Lake George, returning about June 20 to their home at Toano, Va.

White Wedding.
A beautiful, though quiet wedding was celebrated Wednesday morning in the parlor of Rev. H. L. McKee, when Miss Lorine L. Claytor became the bride of John H. York. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Claytor, of Manchester, and Mr. York is well known in this city.

The bride wore a costume of cream tulle over tulle, and was attended by Miss Lizette York. Mr. Robertson acted as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. York left for a trip in the North, to include Washington, Niagara and New York City. After July 1 Mr. and Mrs. York will be at home to their friends in this city.

In and Out of Town.
Miss Oglesby, of Georgia, is the guest of Miss Madge Freedy in her apartment in the Chesterfield.

Mrs. G. G. Roy, of Atlanta, and Miss Kellam are visiting at 110 East Franklin Street.

Miss Sallie Forbes, of Portsmouth, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Thomas Jardine and children left yesterday for New York to sail on Saturday, June 5, aboard the Minnetonka, of the Atlantic Coast Line. They will spend some time in London before going on to Glasgow to visit Mr. Jardine's relatives. He will join them later, having been in Egypt for several months.

Mrs. Robert W. Withers is spending the week in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. O'Ork, of this city, are visiting relatives in Augusta county.

Thomas Garvey has returned to Newport News, having spent several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albin Burnett, of Norfolk, are visiting friends in Richmond.

Miss Julia Wallace and little Miss Mary Wallace Chichester left Tuesday for Washington, where they are the guests of relatives.

Joseph Mannon will sail from New York on Thursday, June 10, on the French liner La Provence for Paris.

Read What This Lady Says!

210 South Third Street,
Richmond, Va., May 29, 1909.
The Crafts Piano Co., Richmond, Va.:
My Dear Sirs—The beautiful Crafts Piano which you so promptly awarded to the winner in your recent contest for the best definition of love has just been received and installed in fine condition.

The efficiency and dispatch with which the competition was conducted and the excellent judgment shown in your method of selecting the committee, should be taken as an example by managers of other contests.

The piano speaks eloquently for itself, its makers and its donors. We are delighted with it and appreciate your kindness more than we can say.

With best wishes for your success, and again thanking you, I am,
Very sincerely,
(MRS.) MINNIE S. BAKER.

The Crafts Piano Company,

Arthur J. Crafts, President, 214-16 N. Fifth Street

Open Evenings Until 9 o'clock

white satin. Her ornaments were old family jewels, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She entered on the arm of her father, and was given away by him. Both Mr. and Mrs. Marston are well known throughout Virginia. He is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, class '06, and was for two years commandant at Franklin Military Academy, and a lieutenant in the Seventy-first Virginia Regiment.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston left immediately after the ceremony for Toronto, Canada. They will visit Montreal, Thousand Islands and Lake George, returning about June 20 to their home at Toano, Va.

To Sail on Saturday.
Mrs. Leary and Miss Nora Leary left Richmond yesterday for New York to sail on Saturday for a three months' trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Philip Ripley will be among the other Richmonders sailing during June to spend several months abroad.

Musical Commencement.
The pupils of Miss L. I. Massel held their first commencement Tuesday, June 1, at her studio, 214 North Twentieth Street. Their endeavors were a credit to themselves and a pleasure to their hearers.

After the program was concluded, Rev. Hugh McKee, of St. Patrick's Church, presented medals to Misses Ruth Dobson, Letitia Clillo, Josephine Massel, Dora Fassamanech, Tillie Berenson, Ruth Spain and Lake George, returning about June 20 to their home at Toano, Va.

White Wedding.
A beautiful, though quiet wedding was celebrated Wednesday morning in the parlor of Rev. H. L. McKee, when Miss Lorine L. Claytor became the bride of John H. York. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Claytor, of Manchester, and Mr. York is well known in this city.

The bride wore a costume of cream tulle over tulle, and was attended by Miss Lizette York. Mr. Robertson acted as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. York left for a trip in the North, to include Washington, Niagara and New York City. After July 1 Mr. and Mrs. York will be at home to their friends in this city.

In and Out of Town.
Miss Oglesby, of Georgia, is the guest of Miss Madge Freedy in her apartment in the Chesterfield.

Mrs. G. G. Roy, of Atlanta, and Miss Kellam are visiting at 110 East Franklin Street.

Miss Sallie Forbes, of Portsmouth, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Thomas Jardine and children left yesterday for New York to sail on Saturday, June 5, aboard the Minnetonka, of the Atlantic Coast Line. They will spend some time in London before going on to Glasgow to visit Mr. Jardine's relatives. He will join them later, having been in Egypt for several months.

Mrs. Robert W. Withers is spending the week in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. O'Ork, of this city, are visiting relatives in Augusta county.

Thomas Garvey has returned to Newport News, having spent several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albin Burnett, of Norfolk, are visiting friends in Richmond.

Miss Julia Wallace and little Miss Mary Wallace Chichester left Tuesday for Washington, where they are the guests of relatives.

Joseph Mannon will sail from New York on Thursday, June 10, on the French liner La Provence for Paris.

Just Received a Fine Stock of

China Mattings

Special Carpet Designs in

Japanese Mattings

Linoleum, Oil Cloths, all new patterns.

Monarch, Climax and our Special Refrigerators.

Excelsior Gas Ranges and Perfection Oil Stoves.

Porch Rockers, Settees, Kitchen Cabinets, China Cases, Sturges Collapsible Go-Carts.

Rothert & Company

Fourth and Broad Streets.

THOUSANDS GATHER AT GREAT REUNION

Veterans Who Wore the Gray Are Received by People of Louisiana.

AN ELABORATE PROGRAM

Many Orators Present to Pay Tributes to Valor of Armies of South.

BY CABELL F. FITZGERALD.

LOUISIANA, VA., June 3.—Echoes of the strife between the States, as voiced by silver-tongued orators from nearly every section of Virginia, a great number of people from Richmond and all the surrounding counties, exchanges of anecdotes between the men who fought under the famous cavalry leaders of the Southern forces in the Civil War, and a dinner to be served to a king, were the features which made the reunion of the William G. Kean Camp, held to-day under the auspices of the Lane-Cammack-Peak Chapter, of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, a grand success. There were several thousand persons present.

It was a day of rejoicing. Virginia hospitality was shown to the visitors in a most elaborate manner, and not one of the several thousands of persons present failed to express appreciation of the pleasures of a day which will live forever in the annals of Louisiana. Old men cried in the recital of incidents of army life, and no less enthusiastic were the young daughters of those who sacrificed wealth and the chances of future prosperity to the cause they believed to be right.

Tributes to the Leaders.
Bards have sung of the exploits of a Charlemagne, of a Napoleon, and of a Washington, but if any of the generals of the South could have heard the praise accorded them to-day, they would have felt worthy of a place beside the most famous military genius of this or any age. Especially in the applause of the veterans themselves, the spirit of fidelity to the cause which they fought for was evident. To-day's meeting eclipsed any similar event ever held in a section of Virginia which prides itself in the number of those who fought for the cause of a lost cause.

The day marked the anniversary of the birth of President Jefferson Davis, and liberally did his name share in the demonstrations of those fortunate enough to be present. Men of Lee's army mingled with the survivors of other legions. The followers of Stonewall Jackson paid tributes to the memory of J. E. B. Stuart, Forrest, Johnston and others whose names are imprinted imperishably on the fame book of Southern soldiers.

It seemed at the courthouse, where the addresses were delivered, that no display of cordiality could express the appreciation of an audience assembled solely to laud the exploits of its Confederate heroes. A drizzling rain fell as gently as dew, and seemed to refrain from interfering with the carrying out of a program arranged for such a noble purpose. The chivalry of the South, the valor of its warriors, never more beautifully portrayed.

Judge George L. Christian, of Richmond, in expressing his affection for William G. Kean, whose name the Louisiana camp bears, paid a tribute to the memory of the great general. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

Importance of History.
It remained for Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Craig county, who boasts the distinction of being one of the youngest wearers of the gray, to introduce the speakers. Several times the audience was brought to its feet in reciting the daring exploits of certain of those who bled and died in defense of their inalienable rights.

Boyd Smith, of Mineral, presided, and introduced the speakers. Several times the orators were interrupted by cries from the audience demanding that some certain incident be recalled.

the noblest thing that can be said of any man." Mr. Gordon continued in describing the famous conflicts of the war.

"Tell us about Gettysburg," sang out the voice of one veteran, who played an empty tumbler in his audience of his loyalty. "What about it?" inquired Mr. Gordon. "Nothing," replied the voice, "but I just want to fight that old struggle over again to-day." The orator did not mince words in depicting the character of a man who nobly charged against overwhelming odds on the Pennsylvania battlefield.

Richmond Veterans Present.
Conspicuous among the many visitors present were many members of Lee and Pickett's corps. Of this city, twenty or more girls, each dressed in white, and wearing a sash of red, "Play Dixie," shrieked one of the former Pickett followers, and the rendition was greeted with the first great applause of the day. The Richmonders fell in behind the delegation of school girls, and behind them marched the members of the Louisiana Camp, under the command of Captain Boyd Smith. Along the route of the parade citizens cheered wildly.

It was planned to have the exercises conducted from the front portico of the courthouse building, but threatening skies caused a change, and the speakers were escorted to the courtroom. Each orator was presented with a bouquet by one or another of the members of the Daughters, and each presentation called forth a response. Especially did the speakers dwell upon the part the women of the South have played in immortalizing the exploits of the Confederate soldiers.

One feature of our program is the awarding of crosses of honor to such as have qualified to wear them," said Captain Smith. "These noble women have chosen to give of us a mark of distinction." The first cross was presented, by proxy, to Otho G. Kean, of Richmond, a son of the hero for whom the Louisiana Camp is named.

Others on whom the cross was conferred were:

George F. Adams, D. G. Alcut, A. D. Arnett, A. M. Baker, James M. Baker, J. W. Baker, L. A. Beckham, W. E. Bibb, J. J. Boxley, J. T. Brown, Charles E. Buchanan, William F. Coleman, S. H. Clegg, John F. Dickinson, Thomas G. Gibson, A. M. Goodwin, William A. Goodwin, T. F. Grady, W. C. Harper, J. T. Harris, A. W. Harris, George T. Harrison, J. T. Henson, P. M. Hiter, Aubrey Huggins, D. M. Hunt, J. F. Kennon, H. E. Marks, G. W. Massey, I. N. May, W. T. Meade, P. B. Mills, Lemuel Morris, O. E. Nicholson, George N. Nichols, W. D. Oke, Henry Oliver, R. E. Parker, J. R. Pendergast, J. J. Porter, A. J. Richardson, D. W. Riner, R. T. Roberts, B. R. Robinson, James L. Seay, A. Custos Smith, Boyd M. Smith, John O. Smith, M. B. Smith, N. H. Smith, R. S. Smith, E. C. Synn, H. C. Talley, J. C. Talley, Charles Thompson, Alfred W. Trice, D. A. Trice, Richard A. Trice, J. W. Tulloh, J. A. Whitlock, W. M. Whitloughy, John Wilson, N. W. Wilson, Robert Bacon, Fred Thompson.

Following the exercises at the courthouse, dinner was served in the grove surrounding the Episcopal Church. For days, and even weeks, plans had been made to supply all who might attend, and when the tables were laid so large might have been accommodated. "If these rumors of the scarcity of chicken in Louisiana are true," said one veteran, as he tucked a leg, "I don't think I'll be here to-day." There was nothing the heart might wish omitted from the bill of fare.

No more sumptuous banquet was ever served, and to a hungry crowd the many delicacies proved most inviting. Dinner, ever as William E. Bibb, as toastmaster, presented the following, who responded: P. J. White, of Richmond, "The Army of Northern Virginia," Judge Samuel Williams, "The Cavalry," Judge George L. Christian, "The Artillery," Captain J. E. Sullivan, "The Infantry," Brigadier General William McComb, "The Army of Tennessee," and W. T. Meade, "The Women of the South."

Among those who attended from Richmond were: P. J. White, W. S. Archer, A. Jennings, J. E. Sullivan, Thomas Byrnes, Judge George L. Christian, James Allison Granville, J. E. Smith, J. R. Richardson, Frank H. Rahm, W. Ben Palmer, B. E. Nichols, Charles T. Leehr, Robert N. Northern, W. T. Blakey, Colonel William M. Chapman, John H. Redwood, T. E. Epps, Andrew K. Roseberry, and others.

The Richmonders were largely reinforced en route, and when the train reached Louisiana every coach was filled.

Wildcat—Wright.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., June 3.—Miss Emma Ariathia Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wright, of Fairfax Avenue, was married to Mr. H. H. Wright, of Norfolk, by Rev. H. C. Hester, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright left immediately for a tour of Northern cities.

USES A PARASOL.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., June 3.—When Mrs. Julius Gray, whose husband is deputy sheriff of Norfolk, made up her mind to leave her home in Norfolk, she took a parasol with her, which served more as a weapon than as a sunshade. As a result of the encounter, which ensued when the wife and the woman charged with being her husband's affinity into the street the parasol is a wreck.

Neither Mr. Gray nor Mrs. Gray were in court to-day, but Miss Partridge was there with her father, J. W. Partridge, who swore out a warrant against her, and after hearing Miss Partridge's testimony and looking at the bruises of the wife, Judge Simmonds imposed a fine of $50 upon her, and she was carried off to the county jail.

On inspection trip.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., June 3.—To-day a party, including the Intracoastal Waterway board and a party of Congressmen, Messrs. Alexander and Cooks, of New York; Small, of North Carolina, and J. Hamilton Moore, of Virginia, left for the Atlantic Deepwater Ways Association, left here on the steamer Jessamine and McGregor to inspect the waterways of the Chesapeake Bay, and the proposed Boston-to-Baltimore, N. C. inland waterway. They go through the Albemarle and Chesapeake canals, and the Pamlico and the Neuse Rivers.

Supreme Court Decisions.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WYTHEVILLE, VA., June 3.—Proceedings in the Supreme Court of Appeals to-day were as follows:

Levi vs. Levi, by et al. Argued by C. S. Graham for plaintiff in error and by H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

Pack et al. vs. Whitaker et al. Submitted on briefs.

Levi vs. Levi, by et al. Argued by C. S. Graham for plaintiff in error and by H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

The next cases to be called are Saffell et al. vs. Ferdie Orr, for et al.; Virginia et al. vs. Levis, by et al.; and H. W. Heath for defendant in error, and submitted.

Begin Now

If you are one of the many women, who suffer from some phase of female trouble